The Workers

Ian is a former policeman. He is married with three children; all educated locally. He now works in schools, predominantly within the Sudbury/Cornard Pyramid. He is a governor of a local school and also a leader in a local church on the Springlands estate.

Jo is a primary school teacher, now turned Mum. She was educated locally and is actively involved in a local church along with her husband. She has a heart to see children coming to know Jesus and is heading up the 'Open the Book' project.

The Support

Schools

"n:vision is an integral part of our school ethos. Children have fun when learning - wouldn't be without it!"
Sue Williams - Headteacher, Tudor C of E VC Primary

"n:vision makes an important contribution to school life. It supports our Christian ethos as a church school and gives a much valued forum for pupils to meet and discuss a range of issues. n:vision's regular input in school assemblies is always entertaining and thought provoking."

Leslie Farrow - Headteacher, All Saints V C Middle School

"Future Vision supports our pupils learning by leading assemblies and supporting RE lessons. They bring learning to life and encourage the pupils to join in and ask questions. The children are enthralled and remember the stories."

Jane Sharp - Headteacher, Woodhall C P School
